

Watford & Bushey Art Society Spring Exhibition

Lowes Water Cumbria, Watercolour by Dennis Baulch

Watford and Bushey Art Society 2010 Spring Exhibition

Saturday 8th May at 9.00 am marks the start of the 2010 Watford and Bushey Art Society Spring Exhibition at the Harlequin Centre, Watford, with the official opening at 12.30 pm. The exhibition will run until noon on Sunday 16th May and as last year it will be easy to purchase unique and original artwork as each picture will have a label showing the title, medium, artist and price and can be taken away once purchased. Such pictures can transform a room and with up to 200 to choose from of varying subjects and styles there is something for everyone. Additionally the browser stands contain a superb selection of unframed pictures and prints.

The work of the Society's artists includes beautiful figurative works, many of local scenes, portraits, and still life as well as increasingly popular contemporary and abstract works. The vibrancy of original art cannot be beaten, once purchased it is something to be enjoyed and admired for years to come.

The free exhibition is in the Harlequin Centre Gallery, (take the escalator near Next to the third floor).

If you are interested in painting then come along to the Watford and Bushey Art Society. We welcome all, whether you are an absolute beginner, a professional artist or just like seeing paintings. There is something for everyone.

We meet on the first Tuesday of each month at Beechen Grove Baptist Church, Watford from 7.30 pm to 9.30 pm. for demonstrations by professional artists. See the most amazing pictures created before your eyes and hear about the materials and techniques they use.

As well as exhibitions where members can display and sell their work, our sketching group meets on Mondays in the restored Victorian Frobisher Art Studio at Bushey Museum.

Founded in 1921 we are one of the oldest and largest art societies in the area.
